HOWARD ANDERSON

Howard Anderson is a Canadian pianist, vocalist, saxophonist, composer, and songwriter. In his piano-and-vocal performances, he draws from jazz, soul, R&B, pop, blues, originals, and familiar standards, combining a warm live piano sound with expressive vocals and a natural sense of pacing.

Howard's approach is built around the room. For cocktails and dinner, he can keep the music refined, relaxed, and conversation-friendly. In a lounge, private celebration, or feature performance, he can become more interactive and gradually bring greater energy into the set. His repertoire allows him to move between classic material and contemporary songs without making the evening feel stylistically scattered.

Performing in English, French, and Spanish, Howard is a strong fit for cultural events and diverse audiences. His solo format brings the presence and spontaneity of live music to restaurants, lounges, hotels, resorts, wineries, weddings, corporate receptions, festivals, and private events without requiring the footprint of a full band.
